PROGRAM DETAILS

CLIMATE & CULTURAL RESILIENCE GRANT

The Climate and Cultural Resilience grant program supports community-based organizations in their efforts to create sustainable and resilient communities by leveraging creative placemaking strategies to strengthen the connection between cultural and climate resilience. By investing in both the built environment and social systems, community-based organizations and local residents will be more prepared to adapt and respond in the face of challenges.

What is resilience?
Resilience is defined as the capacity for households, communities, and regions to adapt to changing conditions and to maintain and regain functionality and vitality in the face of stress or disturbance.

What is creative placemaking?
Creative placemaking is the intentional integration of the arts, culture, creativity, and design in comprehensive community development.

Five Climate and Cultural Resilience grantees will be selected from community organizations in Enterprise’s local markets as well as those working within rural and Native American communities. The grantees will identify a local climate resilience challenge and propose projects in which residents, artists and other creative and cultural practitioners collaborate to address the challenge. Proposed projects should aspire to build strong local partnerships, improve the climate resilience of buildings and systems, and elevate economic opportunities through project implementation.

Projects may be at the building or neighborhood scale and can range from planning to implementation. Examples of projects from other communities include:

- stormwater infrastructure with artistic and educational public elements
- community-driven cultural asset mapping for neighborhood resilience plan
- creation and installation of a solar powered neighborhood utility
- rain barrel builds to capture rainwater and reduce flooding
- maker festival that initiates formation of a neighbor-to-neighbor network
- build-a-bike workshops to increase carbon-neutral mobility
- community collaborations that address resilient food systems

TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE
Enterprise will assist selected organizations to utilize creative placemaking strategies and address climate resilience goals. Technical assistance may be provided in the form of: conducting climate vulnerability and risk assessment, facilitating development of project concepts, analyzing project feasibility, providing successful models from other communities, and advising on research, community outreach methods and processes for hiring local artists and cultural practitioners.

LEARNING COHORT
Grantees will participate in a peer learning cohort throughout the year, which will include regular online sessions and an in-person convening during the week of October 9-13, 2017 in Atlanta, GA.

OUTCOMES
Grantee projects should build both cultural resilience and climate resilience. This program is intended to result in:

- Modifications to improve the resilience of the built environment and lead to a reduction in vulnerabilities while generating beneficial environmental, health, and economic outcomes.
- Enhancements that improve the resilience of the social fabric of the community and lead to more social cohesion, resident ownership, and connections to services and programs that support residents’ long-term well-being and success.

INSTRUCTIONS & REQUIRED DOCUMENTATION
Proposal must be submitted through our online portal. Applicants will create a profile and login, and submit all responses, attachments, and supplemental documents electronically. Applicants may save their responses and return to their applications at any time until March 31st, 2017.

Required materials include:
- Organization contact information
- Proposal narrative (short answer and extended response questions)
- Project budget (please use template provided on grants page)
- Project timeline (please use template provided on grants page)

SELECTION CRITERIA
Prospective grantees should describe how their organization and core partners will incorporate creative placemaking strategies in the context of a climate resilience project at the building or neighborhood scale. Program activities must address the needs of families with low income (80% AMI or lower).

Proposals should address how the project will:
- Address a climate resilience challenge or need in their community.
- Use creative placemaking strategies to shape the built environment and strengthen social fabric to address the challenge.
- Include local residents in defining project goals and implementation.
- Engage local artists, culture bearers, designers and other creative contributors.

Proposals will also be evaluated on how they:
- Describe the proposed type, scope, and expected impact of the project.
- Enhance cultural expression, community ownership, and climate resilience for local residents through this project.
- Advance inclusive solutions with equitable outcomes. Proposals should demonstrate an understanding of the project’s ability to address concerns related to racial inequity, gentrification, and displacement.
- Demonstrate a desire and capacity for collaboration
- Articulate where additional expertise or assistance is needed for the project’s success. Include information about how that expertise could be obtained from Enterprise or through other partnerships, training, sub-grants, or contracts.

Eligible Expenses
Funds for this program are provided by both private and public sources. For detailed budget instructions and eligible expenses, please review “APPENDIX C: ELIGIBLE EXPENSES”

Questionnaire for Subrecipients of Federal Funding
Enterprise, as a recipient of federal funding, must review and evaluate the risk associated with potential grantees prior to making awards. As such, after the submission deadline, applicants may be required to complete Enterprise’s Questionnaire for Sub-Recipients of Federal Funding and provide the required supporting documentation. For contents of the Questionnaire, see “APPENDIX D: QUESTIONNAIRE FOR SUB-RECIPIENTS OF FEDERAL FUNDING”
PRINCIPLES & KEY TERMINOLOGY

Principles
We abide by and seek to fund work that follows these CREATE principles:

- COLLABORATIVE: invite people we don’t usually work with to collaborate
- RESPONSIVE: leverage an asset-based approach to address key issues
- EQUITABLE: unite top-down resources with resident expertise
- ADAPTIVE: combine spirit of experimentation with processes for learning
- TRANSFORMATIVE: focus energy & resources on activities of most impact
- EMPOWERING: empower local community through the process

Resilience
Resilience is defined as the capacity for households, communities, and regions to adapt to changing conditions and to maintain and regain functionality and vitality in the face of stress or disturbance.

It is the capacity of a system, be it an individual or a community, to deal with change positively and to use shocks and disturbances to spur renewal and innovative thinking. The goal is to be both strong and flexible - no only to able to bounce back but to bounce forward. Resilience strategies seek to assess and evaluate the physical and social vulnerabilities and risks in a community, identify ways to reduce or eliminate the risk, and implement programs and projects to adapt and strengthen a community’s physical and social characteristics.

Creative Placemaking
Creative placemaking is the intentional integration of the arts, culture, creativity, and design in comprehensive community development. At Enterprise, we believe that creative placemaking strategies that emphasize cultural expression and broad participation can enhance the social fabric and physical character of communities.

Equity
Just and fair inclusion into a society in which all can participate, prosper, and reach their full potential. Unlocking the promise of the nation by unleashing the promise in us all.

Example: residents of Anytown, USA, live in quality housing that is affordable to them and located in a safe neighborhood with nearby public K-12 schools, numerous transit routes/stops and business centers that offer employment opportunities.

Racial Equity
A condition where race cannot be used to predict success, and we have successful systems and structures that work for all. Example: Race can no longer be used to predict life outcomes, such as the likelihood of graduating college or becoming incarcerated.

- Staff Salaries: for existing staff members or new staff members, which can include fringe benefits.
- Consultants: for capacity-building activities that fall within the program areas of the RFP. Organizational/financial assessments are some examples of eligible consultant activities. However, consultants shall be chosen through full and open competition and must possess the ability to perform successfully under the terms and conditions of the proposed activity with price and other facts considered. Consultant pricing shall be fair, reasonable and comparable to pricing of other entities providing similar services. Additional guidance on consultants is below.

Match Documentation: The public funds for this program require Enterprise to raise match from private sources for every dollar of Section 4 funds spent. Enterprise in turn is requesting that applicants demonstrate their ability to provide matching dollars when submitting full proposals. All match must be received prior to issuing the final disbursement and closing out a grant agreement. Match reflects private-sector dollars received by the organization that supports the same project or program being funded with this grant. Eligible private-sector funds include donations from individuals, foundation and corporate grants or tenant portion of rents collected, as they relate to the grantee’s work plan. It is important to note that loans, equity investments or developer fees associated with projects that are not directly-financed by Enterprise, LISC/NEF or Habitat for Humanity, including syndication of tax credits or loans, cannot count as match. However, loans, equity or developer fees may be used from projects that are directly funded by Enterprise, LISC/NEF or Habitat for Humanity provided they support the same project or program being funded with this grant.

Consultant Guidance

- Selection: It is our expectation that consultants will be selected via an open, competitive process. We understand that in very rare circumstances an RFP may not be feasible and in those situations, consultants may be selected in a non-competitive sole source process. In those instances, the grantee is obligated to document their reasoning for not issuing an RFP and explain why the selected consultant was the best suited for this work.

- Narrative and Budget: Organizations proposing to hire a consultant with a portion of their Section 4 grant must ensure that their proposal provides specific details about the activities the consultant will conduct and why their consultant services are vital to the program’s success. Also, the program budget submitted must clearly show the amount of labor and expenses the consultant is expected to accrue. Additionally, Enterprise is required to ensure expenses paid utilizing HUD’s funds are not only fair and reasonable but also eligible expenses per federal regulations. Thus, Enterprise requires a breakdown of all proposed labor amounts to include direct (actual) hourly rates and indirect costs (if applicable). Consultants must charge rates that are consistent with rates charged on their other contracts/agreements. If a consultant proposes to include indirect costs (IDC), the proposal must be accompanied by an Indirect Cost Rate Agreement approved by a federal government agency or may include a de minimis indirect cost rate of 10% of Modified Total Direct Costs (MTDC). MTDC means all salaries and wages, applicable fringe benefits, materials and supplies, services, travel and subawards and subcontracts up to the first $25,000 of each subaward or subcontract (regardless of the period of performance of the Subawards and subcontracts under the award). MTDC excludes equipment, capital expenditures, charges for patient care, rental costs, tuition remission, scholarships and fellowships, participant support costs and the portion of each subaward or subcontract in excess of $25,000.

- Guidance on Labor Rate breakdown for Consultants: A large organization or an organization that receives large amounts of federal funds will generally have a federal government approved negotiated IDC rate agreement from one federal agency (usually the federal agency or department from which the organization receives the most funding - its cognizant federal agency). This will be accepted by all federal agencies and by organizations like Enterprise that pass through federal funds. Smaller organizations or individual consultants may not have an approved indirect cost rate may elect to charge a de minimis rate of 10% of modified total direct costs.

Additional Requirements to Receive Federal Funding

- DUNS Number: All organizations receiving federal funds are required to obtain a Dun & Bradstreet (DUNS) number (including subcontractors and consultants of grantees). Proposals without a DUNS number will not be considered for funding. The DUNS is a unique nine-character number that identifies an organization. A DUNS number can be obtained free of charge by applying online at http://fedgov.dnb.com/webform or by phone at 1-866-705-5711 from Monday - Friday 7 AM to 8 PM C.S.T.

- Registration in System for Award Management (SAM): Grantees and all subcontractors and consultants engaged by grantees through this grant must be registered in the System for Award Management (SAM) and not have an active exclusion. The System for Award Management (SAM) is a free web site hosted by the federal government that consolidates the government-wide award reporting systems into one new system. SAM streamlines processes, eliminating the need to enter the same data multiple times and consolidates hosting to make the process of doing business with the government more efficient. The website is found at www.sam.gov. Information on registering can be found here: https://www.sam.gov/sam/transcript/Quick_Guide_for_Grants_Registrations_v1.7.pdf

- Federal Funding Accountability and Transparency Act (FFATA): Grantees must comply (as applicable) with FFATA and provide necessary information to enable Enterprise to comply with FFATA reporting requirements. Visit http://www.fsrs.gov for more information.
Enterprise, as a recipient of federal funding, must review and evaluate the risk associated with potential grantees prior to making awards. As such, after an initial round of review, some applicants will be required to complete Enterprise’s Questionnaire for Sub-Recipients of Federal Funding and provide the required supporting documentation related to their organization’s policies and procedures. This request is based on federal requirements contained in 2 CFR 200 which requires Enterprise to review and evaluate the risk associated with potential grantees prior to making awards. Information required in the questionnaire is provided below for your reference.

- Applicants that have never received grant funding from Enterprise will complete the Standard Questionnaire
- Applicants that responded to Enterprise’s 2016 RFP funding opportunity and completed the Questionnaire will be required to complete the Questionnaire for Sub-Recipients of Federal Funding (Previous Applicants).
- Applicants that have open grant awards with Enterprise must submit all outstanding documentation related to the Questionnaire before an additional grant award will be issued.
