Joey Castleberry is a director for proprietary and multi-investor fund relations for Enterprise Housing Credit Investments, LLC (EHCI). She manages ongoing relationships with and raises equity from financial institutions investing in Low-Income Housing Tax Credit funds. Before transitioning to her current position, Joey was a senior underwriter for EHCI. Joey joined Enterprise in 2015.

Joey has over 15 years of experience in real estate finance. Prior to joining Enterprise, Joey underwrote LIHTC transactions for a national syndicator and direct investor. She previously held project manager positions for non-profit affordable housing developers. In this capacity she managed financial aspects of development including initial structuring, securing and closing financing, and monitoring projects through construction and stabilization.

Joey has a bachelor's degree in finance from University of Colorado, Boulder.
