“I can see us staying here for a very long time.”

Cameron Owen works from sunset to sunrise and then heads to college. His wife Callie manages a similarly crowded schedule. With three young children, including twins, spare time is rare. Being able to raise their family in a healthy, affordable home is paramount.

When the Owens moved into their home at Canyon Crossing at Riverwalk in Midvale, Utah, they gained an additional bedroom, greener and more cost-efficient utilities, including geothermal heating and cooling, and more modern features – all at a comparable rent to their former apartment. Along with helping them keep their heads above water financially, their new home is a source of pride.

As Cameron pursues his degree, the Owens – whose story is captured in our annual report – plan to stay at Canyon Crossing until they’re able to buy a house. “I can see us staying here for a very long time,” Callie says.
The Future of Urban Life: A Blueprint

NEWS & PERSPECTIVE

Three Enterprise-Supported Developments Win Affordable Housing Finance 2016 Readers’ Choice Awards

Enterprise Forms New Health Advisory Council with Nationally Recognized Experts

J. Ronald Terwilliger and Tony Salazar Named to AHF Hall of Fame

Baltimore: Community Celebrates the Grand Opening of 80 Affordable Homes
Albuquerque, N.M.: $12 Million Investment Helps Build Mixed-Use Affordable Housing Development

Two New Guides Address the Needs of Aging Residents as Senior Population Continues to Soar

Emily Cadik Named Among AHF’s 2016 Young Leaders

Audio: Andy Geer on A New Way to Preserve Affordable Housing In Chicago

Michael Spotts on Balancing Priorities in Low-Income Housing Tax Credit Allocation Policies

Blog: Redeveloping Green in Maryland

Taking a Chance: Revitalizing Baltimore's Remington Neighborhood

Seeing the possibilities in a struggling Baltimore neighborhood, Enterprise partnered with Seawall Development to catalyze change and expand opportunity. Our new video shows the revitalization of Remington.

The Importance of Creating a Shared Vision: A Q&A with Richard Barnhart,
Chairman & CEO of Pennrose

We were excited to sit down and talk recently with Richard Barnhart, chairman and CEO of Pennrose.

Enterprise has partnered with the real estate development firm on five developments, including the transformation of Saint Luke’s (featured in our annual report) from a neighborhood blight into a thriving, multigenerational living and learning campus.

Read our Q&A with Mr. Barnhart.

EVENTS

Ninth Annual Southland Social
Los Angeles

Rail~Volution
San Francisco

ENTERPRISE RESOURCE CENTER

Visit our online library for a wide offering of new and timeless affordable housing tools and resources:

The HOME Investment Partnerships Program’s Impact on America’s Families and Communities

Webinar: Tax Credits 101 – Part 1: Low Income (LIHTC) and Renewable Energy Tax Credits

SOCIAL

Here are a few notable tweets:

@JonSearles
Proof that sustainable and affordable housing can be one and the same
@EnterpriseNow @FannieMae http://www.fanniemae.com/portal/about-us/media/corporate-news/2016/6440.html

@SecretaryCastro
HUD to housing providers: Under #FairHousing Act, limited English proficiency is not an excuse for discrimination → http://portal.hud.gov/hudportal/HUD?src=/press

@ChildDefender
1 in 3 Black children were poor in 2015 compared to 1 in 8 White children. http://ow.ly/oo8R304fhaS  #EndChildPoverty

JOBS AT ENTERPRISE

Assistant Finance/Treasury Manager
Columbia, Md.

Salesforce Developer
Columbia, Md.

Syndication Associate
Portland, Ore.

See all our jobs

QUOTE OF THE MONTH

“It’s nice. It’s safe. Management’s really on top of things. I feel like it’s home.”
- Callie Owen, Canyon Crossing at Riverwalk Resident

Invest with Us  |  Donate to Enterprise Community Partners, Inc.
If you no longer wish to receive these emails, click on the following link: Unsubscribe