September 2017  |  IN THIS ISSUE:
We dedicate this issue of eConnect to every person and community affected by the recent spate of natural disasters. We’ve made a commitment to support recovery and rebuilding in the wake of Hurricanes Harvey, Irma and Maria. We’re in it for the long haul, and we’re in it for good – read on to find out more and get involved.

GET INVOLVED

Recover Today, Rebuild Tomorrow

Your gift to the Enterprise Hurricane Community Recovery Fund supports our recovery and rebuilding efforts in the most heavily damaged low-income communities.

We’re pleased to announce that our long-time partner, The JPB Foundation, has made a major gift to the fund to support our rebuilding efforts. For corporations or foundations interested in making a contribution, please contact tmay@enterprisecommunity.org.

Responding to Storm-Damaged Residents & Communities

By Terri Ludwig

President & CEO, Enterprise Community Partners

In the aftermath of Harvey, Irma and Maria, tens of thousands of families have been displaced from their homes and don’t know when – or to what conditions – they will return. Recovery and rebuilding will be a long and arduous effort, particularly for families already struggling on the margins of the economy.

We have supported housing and community organizations on the ground before, during and after the crucial recovery and rebuilding phases. And we’re ready to roll up our sleeves and do it again.

PERSPECTIVES

Houston needs an equitable reconstruction

"The use of [recovery and rebuilding] dollars will be shaped locally, so there is an opportunity to do it better and to learn from Katrina and Sandy…. It’s just an open question of how it’s going to happen, and we need public awareness to ensure that it happens."

– Enterprise’s Marion McFadden in The Nation
